

DEMOCRACY: A DANGER
SIGNAL FOR ALL OF US

We, at times if not always, feel certain sense of complacency, even of mental placidity or equanimity, because we are enjoying our lives in the "indestructible mansion of democracy!"

In fact, "Democracy" is, as the terminology goes, our "spiritual haven" on the "turbulent ideological seas. Departure from it invariably means drift without stay. We are all mere flotsams and jetsams! But democracy is not wholly immune from certain dangers and drawbacks. Namely its smugness and inertness, above all, its take-it-easyism!

Democracy without firm discipline is a kind of moral anarchism and so far whenever democracy lacks grim sobriety we are inexorably be led into the spiritual limbo and languish therein! Then, let us be on our guard and fortify ourselves against any adversity and vicissitude.

Don't lag, don't give in, just persevere on. symbolically speaking, we are walking on the jagged ridge or precipice with yawning abyss below.

Abolish all the lukewarmness of tepid morality and the hypocritical conventionalism and do away with those cant phrases of cheap evangelism. As we are groaning under the Damoclesian sword of Communism, we are also wilting under the duress of impotent, formularized Democracy!
